Experiments Prove Sound Travel

More Slowly Than Bullet

In the firing line it has often been noticed that bullets travelling at high speed produce two sounds. A bullet fired at from about 400 yards hears first a vicious crash. That is the report of the rifle coming along at 1,100 feet per second. So it appears that when a man who has rifle, he knows he is safe—at least,

One Person Out of Every Ten in Canada Bought Victory Bonds

The latest returns in the Victory Loan campaign show a total of 782,714 subscribers, or one subscriber for every ten people in Canada. This establishes a new record with respect to the proportion of the population of a country subscribing to its War Loans. The previous record was held in Great Britain, where one person out of every twenty-three subscribed to the last War Loan.

In the Liberty Loan campaign in United States, bonds were sold to one person out of every twenty-seven of the population.

In many cities, towns and districts in Canada, the proportion of the population buying Victory Bonds was even higher than one in ten. In a number of cases it was as high as one in four.

The achievement in connection with Canada's Victory Loan, while primarily due to the splendid spirit of patriotism that pervades the country, is another evidence of what may be accomplished through persistent backing by an adequate selling organization.

Prior to the Victory Loan campaign there were comparatively few bond buyers in Canada. The third Canadian War Loan last spring, which was the most widely distributed bond issue in Canada up to that time, had only 41,000 subscribers. The Finance Minister deemed it essential that many times that number should subscribe to the Victory Loan. He assigned to the press the task of educating with respect to the Loan the great masses of the people who were not bond buyers, and in most cases had only a very vague idea of the meaning of the "war-bond" as we call them.

For several weeks before the sale of Victory Bonds commenced Canada's need for money to carry on the war and to maintain her agricultural and industrial prosperity was presented to the people of Canada in display advertisements in the press. Emphasis was placed in those advertisements on the privilege and duty of every Canadian to assist in the war financing of his or her country, and upon the fact that if Canada's financial needs were to be met the great masses of the people would have to buy Victory Bonds. The meaning of a "bond" and the security behind Canada's Victory Bonds were explained in simple, every-day language. Similar educational work was done voluntarily by almost all newspapers and other publications through their news and editorial columns.

By November 12th, when the sale of Victory Bonds commenced, the people had been educated very largely to the need for money, the security behind the Loan and the reasons why every person who could possibly do so should buy one or more Bonds. The preparatory educational work in the press was followed up by personal solicitation by a most efficient Dominion-wide organization of personal workers. Concurrently with that personal solicitation there appeared in the press a series of "selling" advertisements emphasizing the immediate privilege and duty of every Canadian to buy Victory Bonds, and many editorials and news articles along the same line were published in every newspaper.

The press publicity created an atmosphere and a knowledge of the situation that in addition to securing large numbers of subscribers without per-
